A NOTE FROM THE AUTHOR

Two kitchens, one cookbook.

I grew up between two kitchens. The first was my nonna's, somewhere outside Florence, where a Sunday lunch took six hours and nobody apologized for it. The second was a ramen shop in Tokyo where I worked the line as a teenager because I needed Japanese fast and the broth was free.

For years I thought those two worlds had nothing to say to each other. It turns out both cultures believe the same thing — that craft matters, that you respect the ingredient, that food is how you say I love you without saying it.

The three recipes that follow are the dishes that made me write this cookbook. They are not safe choices. They are the ones that convinced me the borderless kitchen is real.

Ramen alla Carbonara

Serves 4 · 30 minutes

INGREDIENTS

- 400g fresh ramen noodles
- 200g guanciale or pancetta, diced
- 4 egg yolks
- 100g Pecorino Romano, grated
- 50g Parmesan, grated
- 2 cloves garlic
- Black pepper, generous
- Salt for pasta water
- 2 tbsp white miso paste
- 1 tsp sesame oil

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Cook ramen noodles in salted boiling water 2 minutes. Reserve 1 cup pasta water.
2. Fry guanciale in a cold pan over medium heat until crispy. Add garlic last minute.
3. Whisk egg yolks with Pecorino, Parmesan, miso paste, and generous black pepper.
4. Remove pan from heat. Add drained noodles to guanciale pan.
5. Add egg mixture, toss quickly. Add pasta water splash by splash until silky.
6. Finish with sesame oil and extra Pecorino. Serve immediately.

Miso Mushroom Risotto

Serves 4 · 35 minutes

INGREDIENTS

- 320g Arborio rice
- 200g mixed mushrooms (shiitake, porcini, cremini)
- 1L vegetable or dashi stock, warm
- 2 tbsp white miso paste
- 1 cup dry white wine
- 1 shallot, finely diced
- 3 cloves garlic
- 60g unsalted butter
- 80g Parmesan, grated
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- Salt and white pepper
- Truffle oil to finish (optional)

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Saute shallot and garlic in olive oil until soft. Add mushrooms, cook until golden.
2. Add rice, toast 2 minutes until edges translucent.
3. Add wine, stir until absorbed.
4. Add warm stock one ladle at a time, stirring constantly.
5. At halfway point, stir in miso paste dissolved in a little stock.
6. When rice is al dente, remove from heat. Stir in butter and Parmesan vigorously.
7. Rest 2 minutes. Finish with truffle oil and white pepper.

Sushi Pizza

Serves 4 · 25 minutes

INGREDIENTS

- 2 cups sushi rice, cooked and seasoned
- 200g fresh salmon or tuna, thinly sliced
- 1 avocado, sliced
- 4 tbsp spicy mayo (kewpie + sriracha)
- 2 tbsp soy sauce
- 1 tbsp mirin
- Sesame seeds, toasted
- Nori sheets, cut in strips
- Microgreens or shiso for garnish
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- Flaky sea salt

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Press sushi rice into a round disc 1cm thick. Pan fry in olive oil until golden and crispy on both sides.
2. Mix soy sauce and mirin, brush lightly over rice base.
3. Layer avocado slices across base.
4. Arrange salmon or tuna on top like pizza toppings.
5. Drizzle spicy mayo in zigzag pattern.
6. Garnish with sesame seeds, nori strips, microgreens, and flaky salt.
7. Slice like a pizza and serve immediately.
